See Nature

Wow! Twelve eggs have now been laid in our bird box! Our little blue-tit has stopped laying and has now begun to sit on her nest.

'She starts incubating the clutch a day before it is complete and will sit on the eggs for about two weeks until they are ready to hatch. During this time, if she made a good choice of mate, the male will bring her some food, but she will still need to leave the box regularly during the day to feed.'

Calling all young artists!

Millions of key workers and volunteers have kept the country going when most of us were told to stay home. Royal Mail wants to say thank you to these people by producing a set of eight stamps. The stamps will be designs created by eight children and if you get to the top one hundred designs, there are prizes to be won!

HPJS are getting involved and would love to see as many children entering as possible. Your designs need to show a hero during the pandemic and they must be flat, without using a computer. You could draw or paint and your designs should fill the area, using colour and standing out! The final eight stamps will be sent to Her Majesty the Queen before they can be printed and issued. Please collect entry forms from your class teacher and when completed share with your class before leaving in the labelled box at the office. I can't wait to see how creative you all can be!

If you would like any more information, please visit the website. <https://www.stampcompetition.ichild.co.uk/>

A message from Colin the Coastguard ...

With summer holidays predominantly being spent at our local beaches this year, we could all do with a few helpful safety tips.

I am really excited to share with you the link to our new Colin the coastguard web page <https://colinthe coastguard.com/hm-coastguard/> which is packed full of important safety tips and a wide range of fun activities for children to do at home. Please feel free to use this site yourselves and, most importantly, enjoy!

Dear Parent/Guardian,

Our school is delighted to be taking part in Royal Mail's Heroes Stamp Design Competition, honouring the heroes of the coronavirus pandemic.

Eight pupils from primary and secondary schools across the UK will become the designers of this stamp set, and one could be your child!

Each entry we send in will have the name of each child, plus their age and our school's name and postcode.

Before we submit entries to Royal Mail we need explain how Royal Mail will use these details.

Royal Mail will use these details of children who enter (i.e. name, age, school name and postcode) to run the competition, including to contact the winners and distribute prizes. Royal Mail will share this information with iChild Limited and The Education Company Limited, who are helping Royal Mail to run the competition.

Except in the case of the 120 children who reach the Regional Finalists stage, Royal Mail will delete all of this data by 30th September 2021.

As is usual in competitions, Royal Mail may, if requested, tell the Advertising Standards Authority of those winners' surnames and counties. Members of the public will also be able to ask Royal Mail for that information after 30th September 2021. If you object to your child's surname and county being available to members of the public, you should write to Heroes Stamp Design Competition, Royal Mail Group, 185 Farringdon Road, London EC1A 1AA. However, Royal Mail may still need to give this information to the Advertising Standards Authority on a confidential basis.

If your child enters the competition, Royal Mail has what data protection law calls a "legitimate interest" to use your child's details (i.e. name, age, school name and postcode) in the ways described above. However, your decision of what is best for your child takes priority, so if you have any concerns please let your child's teacher know not to include your child's design in the competition.

Please refer to Royal Mail's Privacy Notice at <https://www.royalmailgroup.com/en/site/privacy-notice/> for more information about how to exercise data protection rights, contact Royal Mail's Data Protection Officer or raise complaints with the Information Commissioner's Office.

If your child is one of the competition winners, Royal Mail will contact you separately, via the school, to discuss whether you would be willing to take part in publicity.

Thank you,

Heroes Stamp Design Competition

Update ...

There has been a concern raised that someone may have been sleeping rough in our school grounds. The situation has been fully investigated by our Site Manager and we can assure you that this is not the case. Thank you for bringing the concern to our attention.
